LIFE. It seems like we've been through practically the whole cycle of it. Elementary school, middle school, and high school memories will always be something to look back and smile, or even frown, upon.

Remembering back to when we were first enrolled in kindergarten; back then we loved school. Playing with clay and coloring didn't seem so bad, but as the years progressed and the classes became more difficult, the joy of going to school diminished.

The excitement returned when we were finally able to go to the middle school. Even though we would be the little sixth graders, this was a major step in our lives. We were now switching rooms and teachers for classes and meeting new friends. As the years progressed, we finally became eighth graders, the big kids who knew all the ins and outs of middle school life. The experiences we had at the middle school helped us get ready for the high school.

When we first arrived at HHS we were obnoxious, immature, and inexperienced freshmen. The teachers and upperclass students made it clear that we were unlikely, and we learned to grow up fast. As the years went by, we became accustomed to high school and its atmosphere.

Now that our high school years are almost over, we will be looking back on all that we've been through and what has happened to us. Our first high school formal dance, football and basketball homecomings, school plays, talent shows, and involvement in sports or clubs are memories that will never be forgotten.

Memories that we will try to forget may include the first D- on our report card, studying all night to pass a test, arguments with teachers or friends, and waking up early every morning. These will be the moments in our lives when we are thankful that our schooling, from elementary to high school, are over.

When looking back at the pages of life, the memories don't seem so bad. But who wants to go back and live our lives all over again?

Student Life. Which grade level will be remembered as the most enjoyable and fun throughout your schooling? These seniors look back and recall certain memories they have about these grades.

Katie Boston, 12: "Aside from my senior year, the most enjoyable year for me was my junior year. I met a lot of new people and became a little more outgoing. I also think that my junior year was the year I started to achieve some goals, and those are the important things to do. I can leave this school knowing I've accomplished something for myself."

Martin Fox, 12: "My most enjoyable year in school was my senior year. Of all the great experiences of my senior year, playing in and winning the state football title were the best. Also, there were many great parties, basketball games, and other fun activities."

Michele Galvin, 12: "The most enjoyable and fun year throughout high school for me was my freshmen year. It was a new experience since I came from a Catholic grade school, and I enjoyed meeting a lot of new people."

Kevin Krull, 12: "Senior year was the most memorable for me. Being co-captain of the football team that won two state titles and a runner-up, going to Africa for my senior trip, and graduating."

Mary Manfred, 12: "Although I can't remember a year in my schooling that I haven't had fun, the year I seemed to have the most fun was my junior year. It seemed that there was never a time that I wouldn't be asking myself, 'What's gonna happen next?' During the year there were many tears and downfalls, but for every one of them, there was always something to lift everyone's spirits up."

Jake Irwin, 12: "My senior year was the best year for me. It will be the last time I see a lot of these people for a long time, so I am just having fun. There have been many great parties and get togethers that I will always remember through my life. Also, I will remember my teammates in basketball."

Kris Templin, 12: "Fifth grade was the best year of school for me. Mike Sawyer, Mike Hall, Laura Gullen, and I had fun dancing on the track to 'The Bird,' and making fun of Mrs. Butterball. Also, we were the terrors of Mundell, organizing clash days and sit-ins. Elementary school is the last time I can remember everyone being friends. Nowadays, everyone seems to be in their own clicks."

Celeste Goodwin, 12: "My sophomore year was the best because that was when I became friends with Jessica, Jenni, Nikki, and Abi, whom would later become my closest and most fun friends in the whole world. Nearly all of my high school memories include them, and it would be difficult to look back on my last three years of high school without remembering the group."

Memories of Student Life at HHS

STUDENT LIFE. What will you remember most about HHS? There were many things that happened throughout the year. These seniors look back and recall certain memories of their schooling.

Mark Anderson, 12: "One moment I remember was during the early part of our season. We had just received new Hobart tennis shirts for the season. The shirts had starched, stiff collars and had many buttons down the front, giving the shirts an almost formal look. We told Coach Wucher that the shirts were too dressed-up looking, but he really didn't seem to get the message. That's when Tom Steffus, Brian Mercer, and I showed up at that match with our collars buttoned up wearing old, outdated ties.

Coach didn't know what to think after that."

Jennifer Dickson, 12: "My best memories of school activities are when I went to Germany with the exchange program, going to dances with Brian, SADD lock-ins, meeting Mark Sharenbroich at the Student Council State Convention, and most of all, going to the dome and watching our team win the state championship. After the game, Mary Manfred took me into the locker room to see Brian, and I'll never forget how happy he was. That weekend was really fun, and I'll never forget it."

John Coons, 12: "The thing I will remember most about HHS is working with the theater group. For three years, I worked running lights and sound in the auditorium, and while I did this, I made many friends and learned a lot about the theater. Some of the best memories of my junior and senior years involve the time I spent with the group and the many hours I put in after school. The best memories of all these hours were dinner with Miss Mumaugh, and dinner at Dairy Queen with Mr. Wolff."

Christine Mikusevich, 12: "There are many things I will always remember about my schooling. I'll never forget all the fun I had with my friends, or all the great memories we made together at football games, basketball games, parties, Germany, or even our nightly study groups. I'll never forget all the support and help I received from all my teachers, or the time I put into making the grades. I will miss everything and everyone here at HHS."

Chadd Charbonneau, 12: "I will remember Mr. Brumley because of his great teaching techniques and especially Mrs. Cory for the many things she has taught me. I will remember my friends through the good, and even the bad, times we've had together."

Sara Brandenburg, 12: "Some of my best memories throughout my schooling include Miss Schrader's honors biology class and our field trip to 'the Bog.' Also, Mr. Workman and how fun his A.P. U.S. History class was. My spring break trip to Africa was also a great memory. Most importantly, I'll never forget my friends."

Brickies Defeat M.C. Rogers 35-0

homecoming homecoming homecoming homecoming homecoming

Homecoming. It's been around for years and it will probably be around for many more to come. The annual Homecoming week, which fell on the week of Oct. 13-18, has always been a tradition at HHS. This year was no different.

Members of the Booster Club who wished to paint the windows downtown had to pay a $10 fee to paint. The fee was then returned to the girls after the windows were cleaned. This year many windows were left unpainted because of the new rule, but the tradition of painting windows continued.

Booster Club was also in charge of the annual Spirit Week. The club gave a $5 prize to the student who dressed the best for that particular day.

Monday was proclaimed Disney Day. In which HHS students were able to show off their Walt Disney attire.

Tuesday, students wore their favorite flannels and plaid shorts or shirts for Plaid Day.

Wednesday gave HHS students a chance to show everyone where they were going to college by participating in College Day.

Thursday was Backwards Day, and Friday was the annual Purple and Gold Dress up Day.

The winners for the dress up days included Juniors Amy Mola, and Zack Hill, Senior Mike Jewett, Sophomore Mike Weeks and Freshman Tiffanni Pandazis.

The Booster Club sponsored the first annual Duck Creek Duck Race. Members of the club sold floatable ducks for $1, and the adoptee of the duck that won first place received $300, second place $200, third place $100, fourth place $50, fifth place $25, and last place $1.

The winners of the race

Included Freshmen Melissa Walker, and Justin VanOuse, Mr. Dwight Mathis, and Freshman Jackie Coons. Other winners were from around the area.

The second annual public bonfire and pep rally took place in the field across the street from the bandshell. Senior Michelle Feczko, school mayor, served as the master of ceremonies. The cheerleaders performed, the coaches and team captains talked, and the Homecoming finalists were recognized.

Homecoming floats were again worked on at school. The Junior Class with their theme, "Raiders of the Lost Cause" placed first. The Genesis Players won in the club category by taking famous lines from famous works and making them into Brickie related sayings.

The tradition of selling

Homecoming mums was kept alive by the Quill and Scroll. Members sold mums at the football game and also during the school day for $3.

The Homecoming football game against Michigan City Rogers resulted in a 35-0 win for the Brickies. Even though it rained throughout the game, the fans stayed to hear the results of the Homecoming court and witness another Brickie victory.

The 1991 Football Homecoming queen was Senior Jennifer Dickson, and her court included Junior Erica Schest, Sophomore Jodi Lindsey, and Freshman Jackie Coons.

After the game, Student Council sponsored a Homecoming dance that was from 9:30-11:30 p.m. in the main gymnasium. The music was provided by Entertainment Express.

"Up The Down Staircase" was presented Nov. 13-14 by the Genesis Players and performed by Miss Shirley Mumaugh's theater class.

The annual fall play marked the third time the production had been presented at HHS. The play, adapted from Bel Kaufman's popular novel, is about the exasperating experiences of a first year high school teacher. This was also a repeated presentation for Miss Mumaugh, the first being in 1982.

Miss Mumaugh said that "Up The Down Staircase" has universal appeal; crossing all generations, and that was why she decided to do the comedy again.

The Brickies dominated at state with a 20-0 victory over the Seymour Owls Nov. 30, at the Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis. This was the Brickies third 4-A state championship in five years, and their ninth trip since 1979 to the final game.

Junior Ed Casco, quarterback, made both touchdowns in the game, while Senior Bill Manopoloulos kicked two field goals and two PAT's (point after touchdowns).

Adding to the victory was Senior Frank Maggio being named winner of the Phil Eskew Award. He became the fifth Brickie to win the award.

Nominations for the Eskew Award are made by the coaches, principal, athletic director and guidance director. The nominees must excel in the classroom as well as on the football field. He must also be involved in school and community activities.

The city of Hobart treated the champions to a parade and victory rally Dec. 1, as well as a community dance in the evening at HHS gym. HHS students had their own victory rally and sock hop in the main gym during sixth and seventh hours Dec. 2.

Senior Howard Beasey said, "They were a very hard hitting team, but we hit just a little harder and, fortunately, came out on top."

Senior Bill Manopoloulos stated, "Winning the state championship was the best feeling in the world, and it was a great experience."

Senior Gus Pantinas said, "Winning the game is a great memory that will stay with me forever and it was the best possible way to end your final game as a Brickie."

Senior Mike Hansen said, "Winning was the greatest experience of my life, but the best part about it was the force!"

Brickies Clench Win Over Andrean

homecoming homecoming homecoming homecoming homecoming

Homecoming. The tradition of celebrating basketball at HHS continued during the week of February 3-7, on which Basketball Homecoming fell.

The Booster Club once again sponsored the annual spirit week, and awarded $5 to the student who dressed the best for that particular day. Monday was Hippie Day, Tuesday was Toga Day, Wednesday was Spring Break Day, Thursday was Andrean Day, and Friday was the traditional Purple and Gold Day.

Thursday's Andrean Day was rejected by the administration, leaving the Booster Club to find a new category; however, the club did not come up with a theme in time to establish a day.

The winners of the various dress up days included

Sophomore Becky Fattore, Junior Tricia Burger, Junior Amy Mola, there was no winner for Thursday, and Freshman Megan Mullaney.

The Booster Club also decorated the main lobby and sponsored the hot legs contest for the basketball players. Pictures of basketball players' legs were placed on containers and students voted by putting money into the container of the legs they thought were the hottest. Senior Jim Pope was awarded the title, as well as a pair of nylons and a huge Hershey's Kiss.

During the last 20 minutes of school Friday, students were released for a pep rally in the main gym honoring those in winter sports. The Basketball Homecoming court was presented, the marching band played the fight song, and several awards were given.

Mr. Basketball was awarded to Senior Jim Pope, Mr. Wrestling went to Senior Willie Rich, Mr. Swimming was awarded to Senior Jason Schnabel, and Miss Gymnastics went to Senior Kris Luedtke.

The cheerleaders performed a dance to "Get Busy" and "Too Legit to Quit," and also led the students in the Battle Cry cheer.

On the night of the basketball game against the Andrean 59ers, the Homecoming results were given at half time. Senior Tom Steffus was crowned king and Senior Christine Mikusevich was crowned queen. The other winners included Junior Amy Mola, Sophomore Christy Ksenak, and Freshman Katherine Zlatich.

When the Brickies first scored a basket, the student section celebrated by throwing confetti and spraying silly string in the air. The excitement continued throughout the game as the crowd witnessed the boys' varsity basketball team defeat Andrean 62-52.

Senior Jim Pope had 32 points and Senior Jamie Sloas added 16 points and eight rebounds.

At the conclusion of the game, Hobart fans ran on to the basketball court to help the Brickies celebrate their win.

Following the game, Student Council sponsored a Homecoming dance in the cafeteria. The entertainment was provided by B & B Music and the cost was $2. All students were required to show their HHS student IDs to enter.

Michelle Rosenberg awarded Young Woman title

Michelle Rosenberg was awarded the 1991 'Young Woman of the Year' title Nov. 24 at the high school auditorium. The pageant was open to all senior girls, and was sponsored by the Hobart Jaycees.

Michelle said, 'I can't explain how it felt to win the Hobart pageant. I never anticipated winning, so I guess I was emotionally unprepared.'

She added, 'Never before have I ever felt so excited, amazed, honored, and blessed.'

Kriste Foerg was awarded first runner-up, and Kristen Templin received second runner-up.

The non-finalist talent award was given to Patti Barnes, who dramatized a poem that she wrote. The scholastic award went to Michelle, and Amy Gaydos was voted 'Spirit of the Young Woman of the Year' by the other girls involved in the pageant.

Young Woman of the Year, Senior Michelle Rosenberg and her court: Kristen Templin, second runner-up, Patti Barnes, non-finalist talent award, Amy Gaydos, Spirit of Young Woman Pageant, and Kriste Foerg, first runner-up.

For the talent portion of the competition, Michelle and Kriste danced, while Kristen did a dramatic scene.

Michelle received a $700 scholarship with the title, a $150 scholastic scholarship, and the chance to represent Hobart at the state Young Woman of the Year Pageant in Frankfort.

Kriste received a $300 scholarship, Kristen received a $250 scholarship, and Patti received a $100 scholarship.

Other contestants in the pageant were Sara Brandenburg, Michelle Feczko, Erica Pollnow, Martha Rodriguez, Amy Shy, and Lori Yaros.

At the Young Woman of the Year Pageant in Frankfort, February 3-7, Michelle was awarded a $500 scholastic scholarship.

Michelle said, 'All of the memories from my week in Frankfort are irreplaceable in my heart. I guess the best memories are of the friends I made, and all of the fun times we shared together.'

Five Seniors tour Africa during spring break

While many HHS students spent their vacation in Florida or at home, Seniors Sara Brandenburg, Jane Fronczak, Jake Irwin, Kevin Krull, and Julie Poole, along with Miss Gail Schrader, her father, an HHS graduate, and a Liberty elementary school teacher spent their vacation touring Africa.

The group boarded the plane March 18, for an eight-hour trip to Paris, France. The group toured the city, seeing the Eiffel Tower, and the Notre Dame Cathedral.

Sara said, 'Paris was different than I expected. I was impressed by the Eiffel Tower and Notre Dame Cathedral, but I was disappointed in the city as a whole.'

From Paris, they spent 10 hours flying to Kenya, Africa. Once there, the group had many exciting experiences.

Jake said, 'I guess seeing all the animals, especially the elephants, lions, and cheetah was the best part of the trip.'

Julie said, 'The whole trip was great. The highlight would probably be when Sara and I almost got charged by elephants or maimed by baboons.'

After spending time in Nairobi, the capital of Kenya, the group had the chance to visit the Samburu National Reserve, Lake Nakuru, and the Masai Mara Game Reserves. While visiting the Masai, the group had the chance to talk to different people, take their pictures, and trade things with them.

Jake said, 'They really wanted ballpoint pens. They would almost give anything for them.'

Sara said, 'We also traded bandanas, gum, candy, and pencils. It was really weird buying things because there were no set prices, you just bartered back and forth until an agreeable price was found.'

The group brought many souvenirs back to the states.

Jane said, 'I bought a ton of different bracelets and soap stone statues. Also, earrings, a necklace, and a mask.'

Kevin said, 'The huge wood carving of a rhino I bought was my prize possession. All the carvings I traded for were of great quality.'

When the students returned to HHS, they all had stories to tell, pictures to share, and souvenirs to show from their enjoyable African vacation.

Sara added, 'The whole trip was just wonderful.'

Kevin said, 'The trip was the best I've ever been on. I came home with new knowledge of Africa and a $4,000 sun tan.'

German exchange program celebrates 10th anniversary

Twenty-seven German students from Christian Ernst Gymnasium arrived at HHS April 11, which marked the exchange program's tenth anniversary between the two schools.

The German students stayed in Indiana for three weeks and visited such places as Valparaiso and Notre Dame Universities, Indianapolis, Chicago, and the Indiana Dunes.

Many HHS students hosted students from CEG while they stayed in Hobart.

Junior Vanessa and Freshman Jenny Lahie are hosting Stephanie Thoma, who said, "I love this country; it's wider and freer than Germany. And I like the people here very much; they are so kind and generous."

Senior Jennifer Dickson and Freshman Cheryl Dickson are hosting Marc Feilbach. Jennifer said, "The best part about hosting has been meeting new people and getting a young person's point of view on what's going on in Germany."

She added, "Marc speaks English very well and is a lot of fun to talk to; he's so nice."

Freshman Mandy Bowers is hosting Monika Fruth, who said, "The family is very nice and the living here is nice too. You hear real spoken English and you can practice your English."

When asked what she liked the best, Sita Backhaus said, "I liked the shopping in the mall because we have not so big stores in Germany. But I also liked school."

The hosts and their guests were: Dorie Alfano, Sita Backhaus; Cally Bennet, Anke Melssner; Mandy Bowers, Monika Fruth; Amanda Coleman, Simone Neumuller; John and Jackie Coons, Anna Filler; Dan Butler, Armin Biller; Jennifer and Cheryl Dickson, Marc Feilbach; Matt Dumbauld, Sasha Ubler; Denise Fossey, Stephan Ganzer; Kurt and Megan Homoky, Katrin Sunkel; Josh Benzze, Frank Nimmerfoh; Vanessa and Jenny Lahie, Stephanie Thoma; Dan Larson, Sebastian Oetjen; Bill and Tina Manolopoulos, Silke Lenzkes; Courtney Meanovich, Silke Baumann; Jamie Miller, Elizabeth Friedsam; David Nobel, Christoph Kamplade; David Orr, Roderick von Wolfersdorff; Erica Pollnow, Katharina Weikl; Julie Poole, Andre Kreuzers; Michael Sawyer, Kirstin Hindrichs; Natali Sistanich, Katrin Friedsam; Colleen Shapely, Birthe Alshuth; Danielle Simmons, Kristine Hilti; Chris Smith, Sebastian Lehner; and Mr. and Mrs. Webber, Annette Trumper and Christina Rehm.

At Risk, Challenge programs benefit HHS students

A new intervention program was established at HHS early in the school year by Mrs. Kate MacKenzie, which assisted students with academic difficulties and helped them work on improvement.

Students involved in the At Risk Program were interviewed, had Interprogress reports evaluated, and included those who were academically inclined, but were not doing well in the classroom.

The program put six groups of 10 students in a "counseling mood" to seek improvement. The students met at various times throughout the week to talk about topics of their choice.

Mrs. MacKenzie said that the groups talk about a wide range of subjects and added that the times in which the students meet is never dull.

Another new program, organized by Miss Roberta Hanley, began at HHS to benefit freshmen.

The Challenge Program was targeted to attract students who had high test scores, high intelligence, and academic ability, but were unsuccessful in school.

Ten students were involved with the program and selected out of 44 other freshmen. Selection was based on middle school and elementary school records.

The program introduced the concept of "pass-pass." This meant that a student involved in the Challenge Program would either pass or fail tests and assignments. If the student did fail, he or she would take it over again until a passing score was achieved. The system was also used on report cards.

Some of the advantages for those involved in the program included no grades or homework. Miss Hanley said that in the past, uncompleted homework was not done, which resulted in failing grades.

Miss Hanley mentioned that at first the students were doubtful about the program, because they worried about what others would say. She added that the students showed great interest, and better behavior, attitude, and attendance.

Mrs. MacKenzie and Miss Hanley hope that in the future, both the At Risk and Challenge Programs will receive money to help keep the programs successfully operating.

HHS students take part in Operation Snowball activity

Thirteen HHS students attended Indiana Operation Snowball April 10-13, at Highland Jr. High School.

Operation Snowball brings teenagers and adults together in a cooperative effort to prevent chemical and alcohol dependency as well as other kinds of destructive behavior. Snowball helps develop a positive self-concept, leadership abilities, and communication skills.

Seniors Richard Heintz, Michael Sawyer, and Kristen Templin were selected by the adult and teen directors to be on staff for the event. To be on staff, students had to fill out applications, have letters of recommendation, and take part in an interview.

Several HHS students participated in the Operation Snowball event: Seniors Anita Brown, Stacey Dalton, Abi Joseph, and Michelle Rosenberg, Juniors Tricia Burger, Kelly Duca, Angela Frank, and Turyia Simic, and Sophomores Laura Chiabai and Becky Fattore.

Richard, Michael, Kristen, Anita, Stacey, and Abi had participated in an Operation Snowball before, but this was a new experience for the others.

Kelly said, "I was nervous about going, but once I got there I really liked it."

Becky said, "I was really excited. I was nervous too. I thought it was going to be fun to be able to meet all these people from other cities and schools."

During the weekend, several speakers came and spoke at the event. Their topics included the dangers of drinking and driving, drug addiction, sex, and sexually transmitted diseases. These and other topics were presented at large group sessions.

Operation Snowball is not a treatment program and those who are in need of treatment for emotional or substance abuse problems are not appropriate participants. Snowball mainly focuses on attitudes and feelings as well as on information.

When asked which speaker Tricia liked best she said, "Tom Tufts, he showed us to be ourselves, to draw a line at a point we see right and wrong, and never cross it."

The Hobart group also experienced small group sessions which provided a confidential setting to discuss the information presented at the large group sessions. Each small group was staffed by two teen leaders and an adult person.

Abi said, "My small group was the best. If I could have spent the whole weekend in that room I would have."

She added, "I gained so many friends that I will remember my whole life. We all walked in as strangers, but walked out as best friends."

Tricia said, "My small group was filled with people from all different backgrounds and life styles that came together and shared their deepest feelings. We grew closer than a lot of friends I have here at school because they simply listened to what I had to say."

She added, "They didn't tune me out and just sit there. They talked to me and really understood me, the real me inside."

Trying to explain what an Operation Snowball is like was hard for those who experienced the weekend activity.

"I want everyone to have a Snowball experience because it's something you won't forget," said Abi.

Mrs. Sark retires after teaching at HHS for 27 years

Not only did HHS say goodbye to the class of 1992, but also to Mrs. Anita Sark who has been teaching at HHS for 27 years.

Throughout her career, Mrs. Sark has taught several courses including advanced algebra, college algebra, calculus, analytic geometry, trigonometry, and junior G.T.

Mrs. Sark graduated from Cole Creek Central High School in Indiana. She later attended Indiana State University in Terre Haute.

Mrs. Sark's favorite part of teaching is the interaction with the students, but dislikes grading the papers. She enjoys teaching analytic geometry the most.

Mrs. Sark said, "In general, I will probably remember the extracurricular activities with the Math Club, like the Senior Aloha Dances and car washes."

Mrs. Sark plans on traveling to as many places as possible, such as the Orient and Egypt with her husband after retirement.

Freshman Jackie Coons danced to "Groove Is in the Heart." Freshmen Becky Pouch played "New Orleans Blues" on the piano. The theatre class danced to "Thriller." Senior Kim Fugate sang the song "Daddy's Hands." Senior Kriste Foerg

Thirty-three acts tried out for a position in the 1992 talent show; however, 12 acts did not make it, according to Miss Shirley Mumaugh, club sponsor. There were also 17 blackouts which auditioned, but only 10 made it.

The masters of ceremonies were Seniors Curt Jackson, Mike Jewett, Ted Musick, and Kristen Templin, and Junior Stephanie Thompson.

The blackouts were performed by Seniors Dave Vacklavik, Russ Govert, Curt Jackson, Rick Heintz, Shari Wheeler, Jeff Herrick, Amy Gaydos, Mike Jewett, Kris Templin and Kriste Foerg, Juniors Stephanie Thompson and Sarah Laurinas, and Sophomores Jill Schuchow and Emily Schroeder.

When asked what he liked best about the talent show, Mike said, "The talent show was unpredictable this year. The auditorium was used more and the audience never knew where the next action would come from."

Kris said, "Finding time to work together, and incorporating all of the ideas into the show was the most difficult aspect of being an M.C."

Miss Mumaugh said, "(The talent show) was more than a 'dimension of sight and sound,' it was a blending of 55 students, 21 acts, and two hours into a cohesive whole. Setbacks were overcome and a successful production ensued."

The money earned from the Genesisius Players' 1992 talent show will help finance next year's show.

The spring musical, "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" was presented by the HHS Fine Arts Department May 20-21, at 7 p.m. both nights in the auditorium.

The musical, written by Clark Gesner and based on the "Peanuts" comic strip by Charles Schultz, was first performed on Broadway in 1967.

Throughout the musical, the characters are faced with a series of conflicts. Linus tries giving up his blanket, but fails to do so. Lucy wants to become a queen, but is heartbroken to learn that it could never happen because she is not of royalty. Patty bothers Snoopy to take her rabbit hunting, but they never find one. Snoopy is tired of being a dog because he feels there is no hope for advancement.

The main character,

Charlie Brown, seemed to have it the worst. He had trouble getting a kite to stay in the air, getting a red-head to notice him, and winning baseball games.

The senior cast included: Ted Musick, Charlie Brown; Russ Govert, Linus; Michael Jewett, Schroeder; Amy Shy, Patty; Lori Yaros, Lucy; and Curt Jackson, Snoopy.

Mr. Dean Wolff directed the show and Junior Sarah Laurinas assisted him and controlled the sound. Seniors Ivor John Coons, Kris Templin, and Shari Wheeler helped with the lighting, and several cast members, teachers, and parents helped with the sets and props.

When asked why "Charlie Brown" was picked, Mr. Wolff mentioned that he took into consideration the number of male roles and female roles and if they would have enough students to fill the positions. He added that when looking for a musical, Miss Mumaugh, suggested "Charlie Brown."

The instrumentalists included Juniors Stephanie Thomason, percussion; and Chasity Piscione, flute and piccolo; Mrs. Sheila Conry, piano; and Mr. Wolff, bass.

Amy Shy helped choreograph several of the songs, including "My Blanket and Me," "The Baseball Game," and "Supper time."

When asked what she liked the best about the spring musical, Amy said, "The best part about the play was seeing if I could play the role of a little kid. I usually play older roles or those that I am equal to in age."

She added, "I also enjoyed working with Mr.

Wolff."

Russ said, "I enjoyed working on the sets and being able to spend more time with my friends."

He added, "Over Prom weekend, I put in about 16 hours working on the sets and props, along with Mr. Wolff and Miss Mumaugh."

Tickets prices for the show were $3 and $2 for children under 12 years old.

Spell Bowl, Decathlon, Superbowl prepare and compete thru 91-92

The Spell Bowl team, Academic Superbowl team and the Academic Decathlon team put its heads together and competed at different times during the 1991-92 school year.

Mrs. Shirley Coons and Miss Barbara Gerberick kept themselves busy through out the school year by coaching all three academic teams.

This years Academic Decathlon team competed Jan. 25 at Hammond Morton High School. The group not only came in third place out of 11 schools, but it also had three individual winners.

Senior Michelle Feczko, second-year member earned two medals; a first place in literature and a third place on her speech. "I like the decathlon because it gives me a chance to compare myself academically with others my age," she commented.

Senior Mark Anderson, first-year member also received a medal. He earned a third place in social studies.

During the competition, each member took various written tests over subjects such as math, economics, fine arts, science, literature and social studies. In addition to that each member was required to write an essay, get interviewed, give a prepared speech along with an Impromptu speech and participate in the super quiz.

Since the super quiz was the last area of competition, the public was invited to observe.

"This part of the competition was conducted like a game show every team member had the opportunity to answer 10 questions about the environment; each correct answer won a point for your school," commented senior Michael Hall about the super quiz, his favorite part of the decathlon.

The superbowl team participated in two meets this school year. The first was March 12 at Valparaiso High School for the area meet and it placed ninth out of 10 schools. April 21, the group traveled to LaPorte High School where it placed last for it's sectional meet.

The superbowl is different from decathlon though. For the superbowl, teams of three work together to come up with correct answers where as decathlon is based on the individual's scores.

The spell bowl team also competed twice this year. The team placed last in the Duneland Conference meet against eight other schools, Oct. 14.

In the Area Regional competition Oct. 22 the team placed third.

Interested students were required to take a pretest, the highest scorers became candidates for the team, said Mrs. Coons and Miss Gerberick. Out of 38 people who took the pretest, 12 made the team. There were 10 spellers and two alternates.

Memories, Ho-Hi Life, Radio and T.V. classes have a productive year

The 1991-92 school year brought many changes to the HO-HI LIFE school newspaper.

The staff consisted of six people, opposed to eight the previous year. Senior Michael Sawyer returned to the staff making this his second year as editor. Not only were there three new staff members, Seniors Carrie Anderson, Lori Jones and Martha Rodriguez, but later in the year, there was a new look for the paper. Feb. 27 was the day the HO-HI LIFE changed from the small, writing paper-sized newspaper to a tabloid-sized paper on newsprint.

The 1992 Memories yearbook was put together by Michael Sawyer, yearbook editor, Senior Anita Brown, people, Lori Jones and Senior Suzann Stevens academics, Juniors Stephanie Claussen and Tracey Hupertz, sports, Senior Nikki Dunn, clubs, Carrie Anderson and Martha Rodriguez, ads, Senior Stacey Dalton, Martha Rodriguez and Sophomore Scott Patterson, photography.

Mrs. Cynthia Lambeth was the adviser for both the yearbook and newspaper.

The theme, "Looking Back at the Year...1992" and the cover design were created by Michael Sawyer. The final details and artwork were done at a Walsworth Publishing Company yearbook convention in Harvey, Ill. Oct. 1.

The MEMORIES yearbook had a royal purple leather cover, and contained bookman and advant guard font. The yearbook also had nine pages with royal purple, turquoise, and lavender spot color on them.

The radio and T.V. classes also had a productive year. Not only did its show, "HTV" air every Thursday night at 6:05 pm on U.S. Cable Channel 16, but the group also participated in the Media Regional Fair March 7 at Crown Point High School.

The Media Fair, sponsored by the Association of Indiana Media Educators, judged various entries according to creativity, communications, and craftsmanship. Entries included videos, audio, computer pictorials, and slide projects.

Students from grades 1-12 participated in the fair. HHHS radio and T.V. class entered two videos, "Kick the Pressure" and "The Final Shot".

"Kick The Pressure" told the story of a high school football star torn between throwing a game for money or playing up to his potential. "The Final Shot" was about an athlete pressured to take drugs in order to play better.

Although both videos won first runner-up ribbons, only "Best of Show" advanced down state.

Mr. Dave Baranczyk is the supervisor for the radio and T.V. classes.

Newspaper and yearbook adviser, Mrs. Cynthia Lambeth edits a story that will be going into the HO-HI LIFE.

Foreign language classes learn refusal skills

German, Spanish, French and English classes at HHS made 1991-92 a fun and productive year.

German classes started the year off with a new teacher named Mr. Thomas Martin. He replaced Ms. Eike Fischer for the first semester, so she could spend time with her new baby daughter. Mr. Martin said, "It was a lot smaller than I expected it to be," when asked what he thought of HHS.

The German students had a visit of approximately 30 German exchange students for a three week period. They toured places like Indianapolis, the Lighthouse in Michigan City, Chicago (after the flood went down), Crown Point high school, and many more places.

Spanish classes studied the day of the dead. Spanish 7-8 and 9-10 took time out of regular classwork to learn some refusal skills during drug awareness week.

French classes performed skits, wrote and illustrated short stories and received a few French culture days.

French classes also took time out of regular classwork to learn refusal skills.

Junior English students read "Huckleberry Finn" and "Grapes of Wrath." Skits were performed for "Huckleberry Finn" while posters and cakes were made for "Grapes of Wrath."

Sophomore English classes celebrated the Ides of March while studying "Julius Caesar." They also read "A Separate Peace" by John Knowles.

Novel classes gave oral presentations on their independent novels. They also read many novels as a class throughout the semester such as "In Cold Blood."

Senior composition classes improved their writing skills and were required to write their eight to ten page typed term paper.

English teacher, Miss Nancy McMunn, went to China to teach English to adults who are high school English teachers. These teachers teach English in China as a foreign language.

Psychology II class added

Psychology II was added to the Social Studies Department. Mrs. Barbara Loverich took this class to Ree's Funeral Home and Miller's Merry Manor during their study on death and dying. A second trip was to the prison in Michigan City. Before the students went to the prison, Father Mike came to the school to talk of their visit. He requested that the students not carry a purse or wallet, not to wear shorts or jewelry and have a dollar for lunch, since the criminals walk around.

Mrs. Loverich's first year psychology students brought in children from six months to six years old to study human development. Psychology I students also brought in a baby picture of themselves for other students to identify. The students did group experiments on the different scientific methods. They were offered a handwriting analysis and those that wished were hypnotized. At the end of the semester, Mrs. Loverich requested the students to write a letter to themselves. This letter was to tell of their life at that moment, maybe what they wore the day they wrote the letter. The student gave her a self-addressed envelope and she mails it to them in one or two years. Her geography classes buried the time capsule Dec. 6 during geography awareness week. They were required to do an oral presentation on current events.

Many U.S. History students were to read "1984" and "All Quiet On The Western Front" and tested on them in Mr. Dwight Mathis's class. He also kept his classes interested with many discussions and films on World War II. Meanwhile, Mr. Workman's A.P. U.S. History class read "The Jungle."

In Introduction to Social Science students found out what it was like to be handicapped.

Mr. Cruzen temporarily took over economics for Mr. Lopez for the year, trying his best to teach students on inflation, investment banking, etc. Mr. Cruzen issued grades to his students while the students issued him his own grade.

Mrs. Pam Hass's students were to sit in on a city council meeting, city court, school council meeting, etc., and then write a report on what they heard and get an official of the meeting's signature. Students took a U.S. citizenship test to show how much they know about the government, before they studied it.

Preparing to fly the kite they built in honors geometry are Sophomores Laura Sopko, Shannon Favia, and Michelle Boren.

Designing string art projects is Sophomore Stacey Goodpaster along with Junior Mande Robb.

Math, Science classes participate in experiments, projects

Keeping her geometry classes busy throughout the 1991-92 school year was Miss Barbara Gerberick.

In an attempt to make geometry "fun" Miss Gerberick planned interesting projects such as string art, where students took brightly colored poster board and string and created many neat geometric designs.

She also taught her classes how to make origami projects. Origami is when one takes colored paper and folds it into boxes, balls or any other shape.

In her honors geometry class, the students made kites out of geometric shapes and also had the opportunity to fly them.

In the algebra department, Mrs. Anita Sark taught her last year at HHS, due to retirement.

As for the science classes, in biology sophomore students learned about human and animal anatomy and performed dissections on the earthworm and the fetal pig.

Juniors and Seniors in chemistry took part in various lab experiments. Also in the chemistry department, advanced chemistry, taught by Mr. Jim Fisher survived it's first year at HHS.

In Miss Gail Schrader's Medical Biology class, students had the opportunity to participate in many activities. To begin the year off, the class learned about life saving techniques, mainly concentrating on CPR. Students also spent a good portion of the last semester dissecting a cat in order to learn more about anatomy. Through out the year the "Med. Bio." students also took many trips to various hospitals in the area.

The Sophomore G/T class was taught by Mrs. Jackie Rogers. The students went on a field trip to the Lake County Government Center which they visited the adult jail and the juvenile detention center. They also planned on going to the courthouse to sit in on a trial, but it happened to catch on fire that day. Another trip was to Indianapolis to the Indiana Future Problem Solving Bowl.

The Junior G/T class was taught by Mrs. Barbara Shinovich. The students studied the following topics: leadership, giftedness, death and dying, Aids, abortion, terrorism, suicide, famous leaders and many more exciting topics. They took a field trip to Burns Funeral Home & Crematory and ended the year with a field trip to Purdue University.

The attorneys and the judge received a booklet containing everything about the John Diamond trial. These things included a diagram of the truck stop, where the murder took place, Diamond's case file, an offense report, statements from witnesses, a copy of the autopsy, a report from the emergency room and a diagram of the pistol that did the killing.

The witnesses played by Juniors Josh Cicillian, Todd Gleason and Katie Zaradich and Seniors Patti Hyland, Norm Purdue, Jessica Stewart and Nandy Flores all read the part of the witness they played, learned the information from that and answered questions when examined by the attorneys.

The court case the class did, was entitled "The People of the State VS. John Diamond." In the case, a Grand Jury has charged John Diamond, Nandy Flores with first degree murder in the shooting death of Trudi Doyle at the Truck Stop Cafe on Highway 33 outside of Marion, Indiana.

"As a judge, I felt more involved and in control of what went on during the trial," stated Katie Boston.

Seng said, "I thought it was a new experience for everyone because at first no one knew how to react, but afterwards we learned." She continued by saying, "I liked getting to cross-examine the defendants, it gave me a chance to express my feelings."

The HHS computer classes; keyboarding, computer applications, basic programming and office procedures worked hard on activities throughout the school year.

Mrs. Judy Harder's office procedure class did required units individually during the first semester with calculating, transcribing and filling.

During the second semester, the class was able to pick many desired jobs from a list that contained many different assignments. Some were record keeping, database, computer activities, bank teller, accounting clerk, or work on a typewriter.

During Football Homecoming week, the French, German, and Spanish Clubs were busy working on floats to enter in the parade. Throughout the year, the foreign language clubs held numerous activities for their members to participate in.

The French Club, sponsored by Mrs. Debbie Olejnickzek, traveled up to Chicago, and while in the city, were able to eat at a French restaurant.

The officers were: Junior Susan Acsbok, president; Senior Jennifer Randall, vice-president; Junior Amanda Bonner, secretary; and Senior Jennifer Parris, treasurer.

The German Club also took its annual trip to Chicago and helped the Kiwanis Club with their Peanut Day fundraiser.

The biggest event for the club's members was hosting several German students from Erlangen, Germany. The exchange program marked the 10th anniversary between the two schools. The German students stayed in America for three weeks and visited many places, such as Chicago, Indianapolis, the Dunes and Notre Dame and Valparaiso Universities.

The club's officers were: Seniors Christine Mikusevich, president; John Coons, vice-president; Celeste Goodwin, secretary; and Michael Sawyer, treasurer.

The German Club, and Spanish Club also involved themselves in the annual Battle of the Clubs softball game.

The Spanish Club, sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Shinovich, took its members to Casa Gallardo in Merrillville for dinner. The club planned to go Christmas caroling at Miller's Merry Manor, but too many people were sick so they cancelled it.

The officers were: Seniors Sara Brandenburg, president; Christine Chiabai, vice-president; Maria Mathews, secretary; and Michelle Rosenberg, treasurer.

All three clubs were busy selling candy to raise money for general purposes. The clubs also joined together and sponsored a volleyball game and pizza party the last day of school in the front lawn of the high school.

Carrying a French flag while marching down Main Street are two members of the French Club. Juniors Amanda Bonner, vice-president, and Susan Acsbok, president, led the rest of the group down the parade route.

Members of German, French, and Spanish Club joined together the last day of school to play volleyball and eat pizza on the high school's front lawn to celebrate the closing of the school year.

Helping to unwrap the pizzas are French Club members, Junior Jamie Kutzer and Amanda Bonner. The German, French, and Spanish Clubs provided pizza, pop, and chips for the volleyball players to snack on during the event.

NHS, Varsity H Sponsor 'Wonderful Tonight'

The Varsity "H" Club, sponsored by Mr. Tom Workman and Mr. Moe Rhody, and National Honor Society, (NHS) sponsored by Mrs. Jackie Rogers, were both busy planning and working on the Semi-formal dance "Wonderful Tonight," that took place Nov. 16, in the cafeteria.

The music was provided by Kerry Kapica and the pictures were taken by Midstates Photography.

NHS planned an Academic Booster Club, where they did things for the Spell Bowl and Academic Decathlon teams. The club also sold candy canes as a fundraiser for Christmas and participated in the annual "Battle of the Clubs" softball game, in which they came in first.

The club's officers were: Seniors Ivor John Coons, president; Michelle Feczko, vice-president; Karl Wilkinson, secretary; and Mark Anderson, treasurer.

The Varsity "H" Club gathered food for the less unfortunate at Christmas time. The club also awarded Seniors Christine Chiabai and Julie Poole with scholarships.

The officer included: Seniors Christine Mikusevich, president; Mark Anderson and Sara Brandenburg, vice-presidents; and Michelle Rosenberg, secretary and treasurer.

Student Council, sponsored by Mrs. Pamela Hass, held a variety of events for HHS students as well as for the community.

The club organized the Football and Basketball Homecoming ceremonies and sponsored many post-game dances.

A major accomplishment by Student Council was hosting the Battle of the Bands March 13, in the auditorium. This year, nine bands auditioned, but only six were selected to play. The previous year, the club cancelled the event.

Student Council Sold candy grams at Halloween and held a Halloween dance to benefit UNICEF.

During the Christmas holidays, Student Council members helped HEIDC with Breakfast with Santa at the middle school. The club also contributed canned and boxed items to the food pantry.

The members also participated in several workshops and conventions throughout the year.

During the month of October, the club traveled to Lake Station Edison to take part in District 1 Workshops.

Student Council then went to Goshen High School Nov. 9-10, to participate in the State Convention, where members stayed with host families over night.

The Representative Assembly was at Tri Central High School in Sharpville, IN, and took place April 24.

Senior Career Day, April 30, was sponsored by Student Council and gave senior students the opportunity to experience a job of their liking for the day.

The club gave money to the teacher's retirement fund and also contributed to the Hall of Scholars.

Student Council was run by Senior Michelle Feczko, school mayor, and Junior Colleen Shapely, clerk.

Quenching their thirst at Semi, co-sponsored by NHS and Varsity H, are Seniors Christine Chiabai, Tom Steffus, Jennifer Smith, and Martin Fox.

Row 4: Jennifer Puentes, Megan Mulhany, Karen Valdivia, Laura Chibab, Becky Fattore, Shannon Janis, Jennifer Suprenant, Chris Korya, and Heather Ono.

Hours before the SADD lock-in, Senior Michael Sawyer helped get things organized and ready. Michael folded schedules to help students know the times and places of certain events.

Who ever said, "Three's a Crowd?" Not for Freshmen Marianna Dellick, Heather Gubocki, and Cindy Oiska, who worked at FCA's pancake breakfast held at Hobart Presbyterian Church.

Looking over the last issue of the HO-HI LIFE are Quill and Scroll senior members Lori Jones and Suzann Stevens. The Senior Wills were placed in the school newspaper instead of booklets because the cost was too expensive.

SADD sponsors Lock-in, Drug Awareness Week

SADD (Students Against Drinking and other Drugs) kept active throughout the year by scheduling several events for both HHS students and SADD members.

The club, sponsored by Mrs. Evelyn Dalton, planned a lock-in at HHS for all seniors and SADD members, along with one SADD member's guest, March 6-7.

During the lock-in, students danced, played basketball, volleyball, watched movies, ate sloppy Joe's, and slept.

The club also took part in Drug Awareness Week May 11-15, leading up to Prom weekend.

SADD members painted the front of the school that previous Friday with the saying, "Celebrate Sober. Celebrate Life. Prom 1992." Monday during school, the club passed out pamphlets and after school, a wrecked car was placed in front of the school. The sign next to the mangled car read, "Drinking and driving wrecks more than just your car."

Wednesday, students in English classes received a visit from the Grim Reaper, along with seven dead teenagers who represented the number of deaths that occur in one hour.

Thursday, "Dead end to Drugs," was presented to those students attending Prom. Students looked into a coffin and saw their reflection surrounded by drug and alcohol related paraphernalia.

Friday, a speaker visited HHS, and spoke to all the grade levels on being aware of drugs and alcohol and positivity.

The club's officers were Seniors Michael Sawyer, president; Michelle Rosenberg, vice-president; Kris Luedtke, secretary; and Sara Brandenburg, treasurer.

FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes) kept themselves busy selling candy bars throughout the month of October to help pay for the club's annual trip to Turkey Run May 8-10. While at Turkey Run, the group swam, canoed, played volleyball, and softball. They stayed at the FCA national headquarters a few miles down the road.

The club, sponsored by Mr. Rich Gram, also held its annual pancake breakfast at Hobart Presbyterian Church.

The club's officers were Senior John Coons, president; Junior Josh Wallace, vice-president; Senior Tricia Pouch, secretary; and Chris Erickson, treasurer.

Quill and Scroll, sponsored by Mrs. Cynthia Lambeth, sold their traditional Football Homecoming mums for $3.50 during the month of October.

At the end of the year, the club changed the Senior Wills booklet so they were accessible to all students. Instead of buying the booklets for $1, the seniors paid $1 to enter their will in the last issue of the HO-HI LIFE school newspaper.

The club's officers were Seniors Michael Sawyer, president; Nikki Dunn, vice-president; Anita Brown, secretary; and Martha Rodriguez, treasurer.

During the SADD lock-in, HHS students played basketball, volleyball, swam, and watched movies, but the excitement was too much for Sophomore Jenny Pall, who chose to fall asleep in the main lobby.

Math Club plans game, Aloha Senior's Dance

The Math Club, sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Gerberick, planned many activities for its members, as well as the HHS student body.

The club sponsored the annual Battle of the Clubs softball game May 9, at the girl's softball field. The German and Spanish Clubs, as well as National Honor Society participated with the Math Club.

To raise money, the Math Club held a car wash and was also in charge of the Aloha Senior's Dance June 4, in the main gym. The entertainment was provided by Exuberance.

The club's officers were: Seniors Michelle Rosenberg, president; Jeff Herrick, vice-president; Destiny Wojciehowski, secretary; and Sara Brandenburg, treasurer.

The Photography Club kept busy throughout the school year taking pictures of various events and activities. Several of the pictures taken by the club members were developed in the darkroom at HHS and used in the 1992 MEMORIES yearbook. Club members also took pictures at the Halloween dance and also with Santa in the main lobby.

The officers included: Seniors Martha Rodriguez, president; Michael Sawyer, vice-president; Anita Brown, secretary; and Sophomore Charlotte Sabotta, treasurer.

The Writer's Club, sponsored by Mrs. Carol Moore, held a Valentine's Day Dance in the cafeteria to raise money. They also sold Earth Day items during the month of April.

The club also sold and delivered different colored roses for Valentine's Day.

During National Teacher's Week, the club collected notes from students to give to HHS faculty and staff.

The club wrote holiday stories for the Hobart Food Pantry and for those in pediatrics at St. Mary's in Hobart.

The officers were Sophomore Charlotte Sabotta, president; Jessica Shreve, vice-president; Jodie Fox, secretary; and Janette Ford, treasurer.

Writer's Club members, Sophomores Shawn Elder and Natalie Soria, sort out the different colored roses to be delivered to students for Valentine's Day.

Photography Club members Maria Rodriguez and Michael Sawyer take time out from taking pictures to get a snap shot with Santa, Mr. Dave Baranczyk.

Mr. Mattix retires

When the name Mr. Stewart Mattix is heard, many things come to mind; elementary school principal, assistant superintendent, or the voice of Brickie Bowl; but now Mr. Mattix is taking on yet another role, retiree.

Mr. Mattix graduated from HHS in 1949 and attended Ball State University, where he earned his bachelors degree in elementary school education.

After college, Mr. Mattix returned to Hobart stating, "I just felt that the community and the school system helped me grow and I just wanted to come back and pay my dues and help other people in the same way."

He was the principal of George Earle elementary school from 1962, when it first opened, to 1985. In 1985 he became the principal of Ridge View school, until 1989.

When Dr. Ray Golarz, former superintendent, resigned Dr. Eric Witherspoon took his place and asked Mr. Mattix and Mr. Rick Gadberry to become the new assistant superintendents.

Mr. Mattix's responsibilities included custodial workers, maintenance, buildings and grounds, construction, bus transportation and public relations.

Not only has Mr. Mattix announced for the football games in the Brickie Bowl for 34 years, but he has also been active in many school and city events such as the plan commission, the park board and the Hobart Jaycees.

Mr. Mattix said, "Watching the kids I've come in contact with over the years go from little kinder-garten students up to graduating seniors. Seeing them go into the community and do well for themselves," is what he will remember most about his past job experiences.

After Mr. Mattix retires he will be supervising student teachers for Purdue in West Lafayette and for Indiana University Northwest.

Mr. Leach moves up

No one ever said moving up the ladder to a successful career was fast and easy, but Dr. Jack Leach has made his transitions from teacher to assistant principal to assistant superintendent seem just that; however, it has taken a lot of time and dedication.

Dr. Leach graduated from Highland High School in 1965, and then graduated from Hanover College in 1969, receiving a B.A. with speech and education majors and a minor in sociology.

In 1974, he attended Purdue University Calumet to obtain an M.S. in education and speech. In 1977, he attended Purdue in West Lafayette for his English endorsement to have a professional teaching license.

In 1988, he attended Purdue for his secondary administration certificate, and in 1991, he received his Ph.D. from Purdue in administration curriculum.

Dr. Leach began teaching English and speech at the junior high in 1969. In 1984, he moved to the high school to teach, and in 1987, he became the dean of students, in charge of student discipline. He was appointed assistant principal in 1988.

In 1990-91, he left HHS on a sabbatical leave to work full time on his Ph.D. After returning to HHS, he became assistant principal.

Dr. Leach enjoyed being the assistant principal. He said that the best part of being the assistant principal was working with Mr. William Cope, Miss Williams, and the teachers towards common goals.

He replaced Mr. Stewart Mattix June 30, and became in charge of maintenance and grounds, transportation, public relations, and the secondary curriculum.

Dr. Leach looks forward to "contributing to make Hobart premier in Northwest Indiana and the state of Indiana."

CLASS OF 1992

Senior Class officers: Tom Steffus, president; Erin Gilliana, treasurer; Stacey Dalton, vice-president; and Christine Mikusevich, secretary.

Now that the Senior Class of 1992 has graduated from HHS, and SAT's, ACT's, term papers, and college application are finished, we have a chance to look back over the past four years that we have spent at HHS.

When we first walked through the doors as freshmen, many changes took place. We experienced difficult classes, a larger atmosphere, constant locker problems, and a few incidents of "bullying" from the upperclassmen.

As freshmen, Jennifer Dickson and Frank Maggio were crowned Football Homecoming princess and prince. Christine Mikusevich was crowned princess for Basketball Homecoming.

As sophomores, we felt more relaxed and comfortable with the high school's surroundings, and the fears and uncertainty we had as freshmen quickly diminished.

During Football Homecoming, Kris Templin was crowned princess, while Shannon Campian was crowned princess for Basketball Homecoming. We also won the Football Homecoming float competition with the theme, "Roast The Raiders."

When we were juniors, the anxiety of becoming one step closer to graduation grew stronger. We began taking things more seriously, such as grades, college preparation, and future decisions.

Kris Luedtke was crowned Football Homecoming princess, and Stacey Dalton was crowned Basketball Homecoming princess. We pulled through again at Football Homecoming with our float, "Torch Their Teepees" winning for the second year in a row.

As our senior year approached, a combination of feelings and attitudes spread throughout the entire class. Many students chose to slack off on their studying and caught "Senloritis." However, others kept their sights and goals on college and getting good grades.

Because it was our last year at HHS, Seniors did put aside their books and studying to have some fun times also. Football games, dances, basketball games, and parties at friend's houses are memories that will never be forgotten.

At Football Homecoming, Jennifer Dickson was crowned queen; Tom Steffus and Christine Mikusevich were crowned king and queen at Basketball Homecoming.

The class colors are red and white, the class flower is the tea rose, and the class motto is, "Labor Conquers All."

The officers for the Senior Class were Tom Steffus, president; Stacey Dalton, vice-president; Erin Gilliana, secretary; and Christine Mikusevich, treasurer.

Tom commented, "The thing I will remember most about the Senior Class is their desire to have a good time."

Erin said, "I will remember how everyone always joked around in class, even with the teachers."

Christine added, "The best part of my senior year was winning Homecoming queen for basketball. It was quite a surprise, and something I'll remember the rest of my life."

Brickies capture 3rd Class 4-A state title

The Brickies once again proved they were a championship team by defeating the Seymour Owls 20-0, Nov. 30, at the Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis.

The No. 1 ranked Brickies won their third Class 4-A championship title, and adding to the victory was Senior Frank Maggio winning the Phil Eskew Award for Mental Attitude. He became the fifth Brickie to win the award in Hobart's nine state appearances.

In the Semi-State game against Fort Wayne Wayne, the Generals stunned the Brickies on a punt return in the first few minutes of the game; however, that was their last score until the last second of the game, and the Brickies won 27-15.

The Brickies played Andean in the Regionals and were once again victorious 38-6.

During Sectionals, Hobart shut out Gary Wirt 61-0. The Brickies also defeated South Bend LaSalle 41-12 and South Bend Adams 59-17 during Sectional play-offs.

On Parent's Night, Hobart lost to Merrillville in the last minute of play when the Pirates scored a touchdown to end the game 12-13.

The Homecoming game against Michigan City Rogers was also a victorious shut-out. The Brickies won the game 35-0.

The team was led by senior captains Bill Manolopoulos, Brian Fattore, Kevin Krull, Mike Bell, Mike Hansen, and Martin Fox.

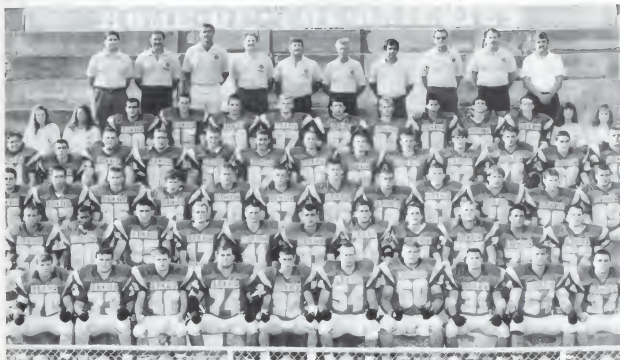

At the football banquet Dec. 15, several players received special awards. Senior Brian Fattore was named the Duneland Conference Offensive Player of the Year, and won the Offensive Back award. Senior Howard Beasey received the award for Pride/Hustle/Desire. Senior Mike Bell was named Defensive Lineman, while Senior Martin Fox was Offensive Lineman, and Senior Gus Pantinas was voted the Most Improved player.

Bottom right: Brickie players battled it out to the very end during the game against Merrillville; however, the Brickies fell short by one point.

Opposite page: Celebrating touchdowns, good plays, and wins became a familiar sight for Senior Brian Fattore and Junior Greg Papaeangelou.

Coach Steve Balash, who has been the J.V. coach for 20 years, said that his best memories of the season were, "going undefeated for the third year in a row and coming from behind to beat Valpo 22-21."

"They were a hard working, close group that played together," quoted Coach Balash.

The girls' gymnastics team ended its season with a record of 4-3. The members set a new school record of 108.15 against Lowell.

Ending up fourth in Sectionals, the team advanced Senior Holly Toering and Sophomore Stacey Goodpaster to Regionals. Toering and Goodpaster qualified to state with Goodpaster all around and Toering on beam and vault.

Down state Toering tied for second on vault and Goodpaster placed fourth on bars, fifth on beam, and fifth all around. This was the first time HHS had any gymnast place at a state meet.

All records were broken this year with Toering a 9.65 on vault, 9.7 on bars, and 37.45 all around. Goodpaster holds a 9.3 on beam, and a 9.6 on floor.

At the Winter Sports

Banquet awards went to Senior Holly Toering for Most Valuable Player, Senior Captain Kris Luedtke for Pride Hustle Desire, Sophomore Tara Zakula for Best Attitude, and Junior Tracey Hupertz for Most Improved.

"This year's team was outstanding! We had strength in all four events. The best memories were beating Portage for the first time in 10 years and being ranked sixth in state of Indiana," said Coach Sabra Coons.

"This year's gymnastic team improved 100 percent with the help from Holly and Stacey. The team stuck together and worked hard in the gym. There was a lot of pride, spirit, and dedication in all the girls. It'll probably be the best season for Hobart gymnastics," said Kris Luedtke.

Michael Sawyer

Dear Michael,

General Douglas MacArthur's prayer for his son is the same one we challenge you with in our prayers.

Build me a son, O Lord, who will be strong enough to know when he is weak, and brave enough to face himself when he is afraid; one who will be proud and unbending in honest defeat, and humble and gentle in victory.

Build me a son whose wishbone will not be where his backbone should be; a son who will know Thee and that to know himself is the foundation stone of knowledge.

Lead him, I pray, not in the path of ease and comfort, but under the stress and spur of difficulties and challenge. Here let him learn to stand up in the storm; here let him learn compassion for those who fall.

Build me a son whose heart will be clean, whose goal will be high; a son who will master himself before he seeks to master other men; one who will learn to laugh, yet never forget how to weep; one who will teach into the future, yet never forget the past.

After all these things are his, add, pray, enough of a sense of humor, so that he may always be serious, yet never take himself too seriously. Give him humility, so that he may always remember the simplicity of greatness, the open mind of true wisdom, the meekness of true strength.

Then I, his father, will dare to whisper, "I have not lived in vain."

The Closing. Now that you have been through all 176 pages, we thought you'd like to know what went on behind the making of a MEMORIES yearbook.

No one really knows all the work that goes into designing and publishing a yearbook from scratch. Perhaps the newcomers to the staff didn't know either, but throughout the year they learned that the work was hard, but well worth it.

The year started out with six new members and three who had been on staff before. The MEMORIES staff total was eight. Another familiar face joined the team early in the year, making the grand total we had to work with nine.

Everyone was assigned job positions by choice and persuadance, and the work began. We started out by thinking up new ideas and designing new layouts for each each section, but most of all, we argued. Disagreements over the theme, cover design, number of pages, and staff member's laziness were finally worked out in the end.

The next step everyone challenged was selling ads to local businesses to help finance the yearbook. Each member was encouraged to sell five ads. Beyond popular belief, leaving seventh hour to solicit ads was not one of our favorite things to do.

Staff members were also responsible for getting their section accomplished by obtaining information, getting pictures taken, and creating artwork on their own. Each layout was originally done by the person or persons in charge of that particular section with occasional help here and there.

Finally, the moment came to go over everything and look for mistakes and send the finalized copies away to the publishing company.

This process has been greatly summarized, but the staff members put a lot of time and effort into making the 1992 MEMORIES yearbook one of the best at HHS.

When Looking Back at the Year... 1992, Lori, Suzann, Nikki, Anita, Tracey, Stephanie, Carrie, Martha, and Stacey, never forget the work that went into this book and the memories that were made in room 222.

I will never forget the times we had talking, singing, dancing, fighting, and our annual "trash the room and pick it up" days. I will truly miss you all.

Also, thank you to Mr. Gaydos and Scott Briggs from Midstates Photography, Bob Henning and Valarie Tanke from Walsworth Publishing Company, Inc., and Mrs. Lambeth. Thanks for believing in me and putting up with me when I wasn't put upable with. (Nice word, eh?)

To the Senior Class of 1992, I trust that you will all strive to do the best in everything you set out to achieve. Good luck in the future.

Congratulations to all,

Michael T. Sawyer

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office for National Statistics 2000). The number of people aged 85 and over has increased from 1.5 million to 2.5 million.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the lives of older people. The strategy is based on the following principles: older people should be able to live independently, safely and comfortably; older people should be able to participate in the community; and older people should be able to access the services they need.

- 1996). The authors also found that the frequency of use of the Internet was positively related to the frequency of use of the telephone, and that the frequency of use of the Internet was negatively related to the frequency of use of the newspaper. These findings suggest that the Internet is becoming a more important source of information, and that it is being used more frequently than other sources of information.
